I. Details
   A. Times: Thursdays, 8:30–11:00 (including half-hour break for prayer meeting)
   B. Instructor: Dr. James N. Anderson
   C. Contact: janderson@rts.edu
   D. Availability: If you wish to discuss some aspect of the course, please speak to me after class or email me to arrange an office appointment.

II. Goals
   A. To introduce the student to Islamic history, culture, traditions, beliefs, and practices.
   B. To raise the student’s awareness of the considerable diversity found within Islam, both historically and in its contemporary expressions.
   C. To encourage the student to think biblically and critically about Christian engagement with Islam, both in the past and in the present.
   D. To develop a deeper and more accurate understanding of Islam, so as to cultivate a greater love for our Muslim neighbors and a more effective witness toward them.

III. Course Overview
   A. Introduction: Why Study Islam?
   B. Christian Principles for Comparative Religion
   C. Overview of Islam
   D. History of Islam (6thC to 21stC)
   E. Islamic Sources: Qur’an, Sunna, Hadith
   F. Islamic Law
   G. Diversity in Islam
   H. Islamic Culture
   I. Christian Encounters with Islam: Historical Examples
   J. Christian Encounters with Islam: Evangelism, Apologetics, Missions
   K. Controversial Issues
   L. Summary and Conclusion

IV. Course Requirements
   A. Class attendance and thoughtful participation.
      1. As per seminary policy, you are required to attend all the lectures. If you know that you will be unable to attend class on a particular date, please inform me in advance, otherwise you may be penalized for your absence.
      2. There will be opportunity for class participation and questions during the lectures.
      3. You will be expected to use the internet in the classroom only for appropriate class-related activities. Please consult Appendix A regarding the RTS Charlotte policy on classroom technology usage.
4. A proportion of your final grade (see below) will depend on your attendance record and your participation in the classes (thoughtful interaction with the professor and other students).

B. Reading assignments.
1. A proportion of your final exam mark (and thus your final grade) will depend on how much of the required reading you have completed.
2. A reading schedule will be provided at the start of class.

C. Report on mosque visit.
1. A group visit to a local mosque will be arranged during the semester. (There may be more than one visit, depending on class size.) The visit will take place on a Friday afternoon and will center on observing (but not participating in) a Muslim worship service.
2. The date(s) of the visit(s) will be announced early in the semester. If for good reason you are unable to attend the visit, please inform me as soon as possible so that an alternative assignment can be arranged.
3. You are required to write a short report (500-1000 words) reflecting on what you learned from this experience. This report should not be merely a description of what you observed, but a critical reflection on how it affected your understanding of Islam in relation to your own Christian faith. For example, you could address some of these questions:
   i. What were your preconceptions before the visit?
   ii. How were your preconceptions confirmed or challenged?
   iii. Were you surprised by anything you observed or heard?
   iv. How does Muslim worship compare to Christian worship?
   v. How did the visit affect your attitude towards Islam and Muslims?
4. Your mosque visit report is due on May 14. It should be uploaded to the course website (look for the link on the Modules page) on or prior to this date. Late submissions will be penalized.

D. Research paper.
1. You are required to write a critical research paper (3500–4500 words, excluding footnotes) on any topic covered in the lectures or readings. If you’re in any doubt about whether your topic is a suitable one, please check with me first. Some suggestions:
   i. Comparing the Bible and the Qur’an (teachings, origins, interpretation, etc.)
   ii. Comparing Islamic and Reformed views on free will and predestination
   iii. Evaluating “Insider Movements”
   iv. Islamic views on sin and salvation
   v. Challenges in evangelizing Muslims (theological, cultural, political, etc.)
   vi. Christian responses to Muslim polemics
   vii. Lessons from the writings and ministry of Samuel Zwemer viii. Cooperation with Muslims on social issues (abortion, religious freedom, etc.)
2. Whatever topic you choose, make sure that your paper has a clear, focused thesis.
3. Your paper will be graded according to the following criteria, in no particular order: responsible use of Scripture, responsible use of sources, extent of research, creativity, clarity, structure and coherence, cogency of argument, practical relevance, evidence of critical thinking, and good writing style (inc. grammar, spelling, and punctuation).

4. The paper should cite at least 8 scholarly sources.
   i. For the purposes of this paper, a scholarly source is a book or article by a recognized expert in the field (and not aimed at a popular level for a general audience)—ideally one that has been peer-reviewed.
   ii. Wikipedia is clearly not a scholarly source.
   iii. That said, with sufficient discernment, Wikipedia can be a useful pointer to scholarly sources and is generally reliable for fact-checking on uncontroversial issues.
   iv. Please consult me if you have any doubts about whether a source is scholarly.
   v. You should not rely heavily on internet sources. Use the library!

5. The paper should be word-processed, not hand-written.
   i. Use a 12-point font and double line-spacing for the main text.
   ii. Use section headings where applicable to improve readability.
   iii. Use footnotes (10-point font) rather than endnotes.
   iv. Use a recognized scholarly style for citations (e.g., Chicago, Turabian, SBL).

6. The paper should be submitted with a title page containing all of the following: the name and year of the course; your name; the professor’s name; the title of the paper; and the exact word count for the main text of the paper (obtained from your word processor’s word-count feature).

7. You will be penalized if you do not observe the requirements and guidelines above.

8. For good examples of scholarly papers using scholarly sources, take a look at the online papers from the Journal of the Evangelical Theological Society (here) and the Westminster Theological Journal (here). For good examples of research papers from RTS Charlotte students, visit the Pen and Parchment webpage.

9. Your research paper is due on May 14. It should be uploaded to the course website (look for the link on the Modules page) on or prior to this date. Late submissions will be penalized.

E. Midterm exam.
   1. The midterm exam should be taken during the period March 18–29. Please consult Appendix B regarding the exam process.
   2. The exam will consist of 30 MCQs based on the class material covered to date. You will have one hour to complete the exam and you will not be allowed to refer to any class notes or other study resources.

F. Final exam.
   1. The final exam will be taken in exam week: May 16–21.
   2. The exam will consist of three short-essay questions based on all of the class material and all of the required reading. You will have three hours to complete it.
   3. You may refer to English translations of the Bible and the Quran (but not versions with study notes, etc.). You may not refer to class notes or other study resources.
   4. You will be asked to sign a declaration that you have not discussed the content of the exam with anyone who has previously taken the exam.
   5. You will also be asked to indicate how much (percentage) of the required reading you have completed.
V. Course Documents

A. Instructions for accessing course documents.
   1. Log in to the RTS Canvas website (https://rts.instructure.com).
   2. Select “Christian Encounter with Islam” from the Courses menu.
   3. All of the course documents will be accessible from the Modules page.

B. Course outline.
   1. Other than the syllabus, the course outline is the most important document. You will need a copy (either electronic or printed) in front of you throughout the class.
   2. You are strongly encouraged to supplement the outline with your own notes.
   3. The outline will be uploaded to the course website the week before class.

C. Supplementary documents.
   1. The reading schedule and some of the required reading items (see below) will be available on the course website.
   2. You should also consult the documents “Research Paper Checklist” and “Guide to Annotations on Graded Papers” before you write your papers.

VI. Grading

A. Class attendance and participation — 10%
B. Midterm exam — 15%
C. Final exam (including credit for reading assignments) — 20%
D. Report on mosque visit — 15%
E. Writing assignment — 40%

VII. Required Reading

You should obtain copies of all the items below. A reading schedule will be provided at the start of class.

D. James R. White, What Every Christian Needs to Know About the Qur’an (Bethany House, 2013).
VIII. Recommended Supplementary Reading

You are not required to read any of the items below, but you may find them useful to consolidate the course material and for further study as your interests dictate. For many of these, the table of contents can be viewed on Amazon.com or Google Books. These sources reflect a wide range of Muslim, Christian, and secular perspectives on Islam—some sympathetic, some moderately critical, some highly critical—but all are informative and thought-provoking to some degree.

Note also the resources on the RTS LibGuide for the course: http://rts.libguides.com/islamguide

A. General Introductions
   3. John L. Esposito, Islam: The Straight Path (Oxford University Press, 4th ed., 2010). [A widely-used textbook by one of the leading Western scholars of Islam. Covers the major issues very well, although Esposito evidently wants to soften Islam’s sharp edges and his biases are on full display in his discussion of ‘Islamophobia’.]

B. Reference Works

C. Muhammad and the Qur’an
   1. Alfred Guillaume, trans., The Life of Muhammad: A Translation of Ibn Ishaq’s Sirat Rasul Allah (Oxford University Press, 1967). [Ibn Ishaq’s (d. 768) historical account is one of the earliest and most respected.]
[A new translation with parallel commentary based on various tafsir sources. Very useful for understanding how moderate Muslims interpret the Qur’an today.]

[A summary of quranic teachings by a modernist Muslim scholar.]

[A scholarly introduction to the history of Muhammad, his successors, and the Qur’an; raises critical questions about the traditional Muslim narratives.]

[A fascinating but technical study of the Qur’an applying standard textual critical methods; challenges popular Muslim beliefs and assumptions about the Qur’an.]

[A short comparison of the textual histories of the New Testament and the Qur’an; an accessible summary of the conclusions of Small’s doctoral research.]

[A “quest for the historical Muhammad” with very negative conclusions. Spencer is one of the most outspoken critics of Islam writing today. Many would consider him to be hyper-skeptical, but his book raises some serious questions for Muslims.]

D. Christian Engagement with Islam

[A practical, gospel-centered book by an evangelical pastor and former Muslim.]

2. Laurie Fortunak Nichols and Gary R. Corwin, eds., Envisioning Effective Ministry: Evangelism in a Muslim Context (EMIS, 2010).
[A very helpful collection of short articles from the Evangelical Missions Quarterly addressing current challenges and debates in Muslim evangelism, church planting, and contextualization.]

[Garrison documents the many “movements to Christ” which have emerged in the Muslim world in the last half-century. Informative, encouraging, and challenging.]

[An introduction to the basic teachings of Islam followed by a critical evaluation from an evangelical Christian perspective.]

5. Timothy George, Is the Father of Jesus the God of Muhammad (Zondervan, 2002).
[George gives an overview of Islam and a nuanced, well-informed answer to the title question, noting the irreconcilable differences between Christianity and Islam.]

[A very insightful and practical book on evangelizing Muslims.]

[A mostly helpful resource for understanding the Muslim mindset with respect to Christianity and the West. Also provides invaluable insights on how to evangelize Muslims. Jabbour is sympathetic toward Insider Movements.]

9. Bruce A. McDowell and Anees Zaka, Muslims and Christians at the Table: Promoting Biblical Understanding Among North American Muslims (P&R, 1999). [A practical (but pre-9/11) guide to understanding North American Muslims and to building bridges for evangelism by promoting biblical understanding. The authors have several decades of experience ministering to Muslims in Philadelphia.]

11. Gordon Nickel, The Gentle Answer to the Muslim Accusation of Biblical Falsification (Bruton Gate, 2015). [A superb defense of the integrity of the Bible in response to the common Muslim accusation that Jews and Christians have corrupted their scriptures. Also documents the contradictions, alterations, and dubious textual history of the Qur'an.]

12. Phil Parshall, The Cross and the Crescent: Understanding the Muslim Heart and Mind (InterVarsity Press, 2002). [Useful mainly for understanding how Muslims view the world and cope with the challenges of life; very conversational and anecdotal in style.]

13. Nabeel Qureshi, Seeking Allah, Finding Jesus (Zondervan, 2014). [Gripping testimony of an Ahmadiyya Muslim who was challenged to investigate the historical claims of Christianity, as compared with those of Islam, and ended up converting to Christ. Both illuminating and encouraging.]

15. Nabeel Qureshi, No God but One: Allah or Jesus? (Zondervan, 2016). [Qureshi’s follow-up to Seeking Allah, Finding Jesus, in which he argues that the evidence of history supports the truth-claims of Christianity rather than Islam.]

[Zwemer (1867-1952) was a pioneering Reformed missionary in the Middle East, later appointed professor of missions at Princeton Theological Seminary.]

E. Other Resources

   [Published annually by a group of leading Islamic scholars, this e-book provides an informative and fascinating window on the Muslim world. Includes useful statistics and survey articles on Islam in the world today.]

   [Intended as an empirically researched corrective to popular assumptions about what Muslims believe. From the blurb: “Gallup conducted tens of thousands of interviews with residents of more than 35 nations that are predominantly Muslim or have significant Muslim populations.” Illuminating at points, but the book contains more interpretation than actual hard data and the authors clearly have an agenda.]

   [A provocative account of the rise of Islam that challenges the ‘received’ view.]

   [An influential and controversial work on international affairs. Huntington argues that the post-Cold War world will be divided mainly according to cultural/religious identities, resulting in a major fault-line between the West and the Rest (esp. the Muslim world).]

   [Lewis charts the rise and fall of Islam over the centuries, with a view to explaining present-day Muslim bewilderment and frustration at the decline of Islamic power.]

   [Nawawi was a 13th-century Islamic legal scholar. This relatively short work gives fascinating insight into what it means to be a “good Muslim” and how exactly the “Five Pillars of Islam” should be practiced.]

   [Reilly argues that the crisis in Islam today has its roots in a “battle for the Muslim mind” fought between two rival Islamic schools of theology in the medieval era.]

   [An influential and controversial critique of post-colonial Western prejudices and misrepresentations of the Middle East. Said was a Palestinian-American professor of literature at Columbia University.]
   [A very thorough (and sobering) survey of militant Islam and its roots. Sookhdeo is the director of the Institute for the Study of Islam and Christianity and International Director of the Barnabas Fund.]

Appendix A: RTS Charlotte Classroom Technology Usage

RTS Charlotte recognizes how essential it is for students to have reliable, campus-wide access to the internet. For that reason, we have made Wi-Fi available for our student body, not only in the library and student lounges, but also in the classrooms. We know that students need to use the internet to download class materials, access files on the Cloud, and locate other important information. However, we also recognize that internet access in the classroom provides opportunity for abuse and misuse. Some students have unfortunately used their internet access to engage in many activities that distract them from the classroom lectures (e.g., surfing the web, checking sports scores, playing games). Not only does such activity hamper a student’s own seminary education, but it distracts other students who can easily view the screens of nearby students. In addition, donors and classroom guests (who often sit in the back) can see this inappropriate internet usage, which reflects poorly on RTS. Classroom etiquette includes leaving cell phones turned off, refraining from surfing the Internet or playing computer games or other distracting activities. In addition, students must respect standards set by individual professors regarding the use of technology during their class.

In order to address this issue, we must appeal to the integrity of the students as ones who are preparing for a lifetime of ministry to Christ and his church. We expect each student to take personal responsibility for proper classroom technology usage and to encourage others around them to do the same. All RTS-Charlotte students are accountable to the policies stated in the Student Handbook and Academic Catalog and are therefore expected to use technology in the classroom only for appropriate class-related activities. Student conduct is under the supervision of the Dean of Students.
Appendix B: RTS Charlotte Student Instructions for Midterm Exams Outside of Class

1. Install the LockDown Browser application on the computer you intend to use for exams, prior to sitting for the exam, using this link: https://download.respondus.com/lockdown/download.php?id=998253613
   - This link is ONLY for RTS students and covers both Mac and Windows applications.
   - Be sure that you are able to login to your Canvas account from the LockDown Browser before scheduling a time to take your exam.
   - The LockDown Browser application is already installed on the computers in the RTS Charlotte library. (Note that if you elect to use the library computers, your proctor must still be present throughout the duration of the exam.)
   - If you use internet filtering software (for example, Covenant Eyes) you should disable it before beginning and exam with LockDown Browser. Some types of filtering software can block your computer’s connection to Canvas. Also, be sure to add an exception for our Canvas URL: https://rts.instructure.com

2. Make arrangements with a proctor to supervise the exam within the date timeframe set by the professor. The proctor cannot be a family member, current RTS student (current = taken a class within the past year but not yet graduated), or member of the library staff. Typical proctors are pastors or church staff members. For your convenience, there will be several on-campus proctor blocks where a proctor will be available to supervise your exam. Dates and times will be posted on Canvas and announced in the weekly Semper.

3. The proctor must observe student taking exam and ensure that there are no devices or resources available other than the computer being used for the exam.

4. Access the exam during the date window specified for that midterm:
   a. Start the LockDown Browser application using a wired or known reliable WiFi connection. We do not recommend using restaurant or coffee shop WiFi to take exams.
   b. Have your student ID number available to input into the exam.
   c. If you use internet filtering software, you should disable it before beginning an exam with LockDown Browser.
   d. Login to your Canvas account using your Self-Service username and password. If you need to reset your Self-Service password, you may do so at https://selfservice.rts.edu
   e. Navigate to the exam. You will not be able to access the exam with a standard web browser. For additional details on using LockDown Browser, review this Student Quick Start Guide (PDF).
   f. Time clock will begin once you open the exam.
   g. Exam must be completed in one sitting. You may not exit and return to exam later.
   h. The exam will contain questions requiring the proctor contact information, an honor pledge, and certification that your proctor was present during the entire exam period.

5. The proctor must confirm completion at the end of the exam by emailing proctor.charlotte@rts.edu, including the Course Name & Student Name in the email subject line. There is a question in the exam which will prompt you to ask your proctor to send this email.
6. Proctors may be contacted to verify information regarding exam administration.

7. In the rare case of a technical issue (for example, if internet service goes out during exam), the proctor should contact the course TA. While the TAs may not be immediately available, the date and time of the email will document when the issue was reported. Please have your TA’s contact information available for your proctor before opening the exam. Once you open the exam using the LockDown Browser, you will not be able to access other programs on your computers.

<td>In order to measure the success of the MDiv curriculum, RTS has defined the following as the intended outcomes of the student learning process. Each course contributes to these overall outcomes. This rubric shows the contribution of this course to the MDiv outcomes.</td>
<td>Broadly understands and articulates knowledge, both oral and written, of essential biblical, theological, historical, and cultural/global information, including details, concepts, and frameworks.</td>
<td>Significant knowledge of the original meaning of Scripture. Also, the concepts for and skill to research further into the original meaning of Scripture and to apply Scripture to a variety of modern circumstances. (Includes appropriate use of original languages and hermeneutics; and integrates theological, historical, and cultural/global perspectives.)</td>
<td>Significant knowledge of Reformed theology and practice, with emphasis on the Westminster Standards.</td>
<td>Demonstrates a love for the Triune God that aids the student’s sanctification.</td>
<td>Burning desire to conform all of life to the Word of God.</td>
<td>Embraces a winsomely Reformed ethos. (Includes an appropriate ecumenical spirit with other Christians, especially Evangelicals; a concern to present the Gospel in a God-honoring manner to non-Christians; and a truth-in-love attitude in disagreements.)</td>
<td>Ability to preach and teach the meaning of Scripture to both heart and mind with clarity and enthusiasm.</td>
<td>Knowledgeable of historic and modern Christian-worship forms; and ability to construct and skill to lead a worship service.</td>
<td>Ability to shepherd the local congregation: aiding in spiritual maturity; promoting use of gifts and callings; and encouraging a concern for non-Christians, both in America and worldwide.</td>
<td>Ability to interact within a denominational context, within the broader worldwide church, and with significant public issues.</td>
