Textbooks

I'm expecting that you've already read the following book: Kelly Kopic, A Little Book for New Theologians: Why and How to Study Theology (Downers Grove, IL: IVP Academic, 2012). ISBN 9780830839759. It is sent to new students and to be read prior to orientation. If you have not read it, please do so immediately by way of preparation for the class. If you haven't yet received a copy from RTS, we will gladly provide one.

The following books are required reading:

1. Scott Swain, Trinity, Revelation, and Reading: A Theological Introduction to the Bible and Its Interpretation (London: T & T Clark, 2011). ISBN 9780567265401.
2. Michael Allen, Reformed Theology (London: T & T Clark, 2010). ISBN 9780567034304.
3. Uche Anizor, How to Read Theology: Engaging Doctrine Critically and Charitably (Grand Rapids: Baker Academic, 2018). ISBN 9780801049750.
4. Richard Baxter, The Reformed Pastor (Puritan Paperbacks; Edinburgh: The Banner of Truth Trust, 1974). ISBN 9780851511917.
5. Gregory the Great, Book of Pastoral Rule (Popular Patristics Series 34; Crestwood, NY: St. Vladimir's Seminary Press, 2007). ISBN 9780881413182.

Additional resources will be provided by the instructor on Canvas, our seminary's learning management system. Students should check Canvas at the beginning of term and also pay attention to all announcements.

Requirements

1. Reading

Class discussions will focus on readings, so you must be prepared to talk by completing reading prior to our week of class.

Theology is an activity done largely through the process of good reading. Read carefully. Read charitably. Read with others. Read with the expectation that you will learn from others, even when you disagree with their main point. Read even when a text is dense and difficult, for you will learn perseverance and fortitude here. Read that which seems trite and obvious, asking how others might object or criticize. Most importantly, read because God was willing to reveal himself in written words, and because we can best witness to God's grace with corresponding words. Read because words matter in God's economy of grace.

Reading should all be completed by the beginning of class on Oct. 14.

2. Reading Briefs

Students are expected to prepare a brief on each chapter read from Swain and Allen. The purpose of the brief is to summarize the thesis, outline, and argument of that text, as well as to state one's own analysis of it (in the form of questions, confirmations, objections, etc.). Briefs may (and should) include quotations from various points in the text (so long as page numbers are referenced parenthetically).

Briefs should be no more than 350 words. They should be written in complete sentences and edited carefully.

Students are to upload them to Canvas.

Reading briefs on Swain are to be completed by the first day of class on Oct. 14. Reading briefs on Allen are to be completed by Nov. 14.

3. Final Paper

Students will write a 1500-2000 word essay on some facet of the readings from Gregory or Baxter that impressed itself upon you or raised questions in your mind regarding your own spiritual, theological, and vocational leanings.

All papers are to be uploaded on Canvas by 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, December 11.

The Grading Structure

Grades will be assessed as follows:

Reading Briefs	50%
Final Paper	50%

The grading scale can be found in the Academic Catalog. As laid out in the catalog, a “B” is the work normally expected of a student. An “A” is given for someone who consistently outperforms expectations, and a “C” is given for persons who only minimally and occasionally meet expectations. Read the Academic Catalog to see what grades reflect.

Academic Honesty (adapted from Dr. Timothy Phillips of Wheaton College)

1. The assignments are designed to extend and deepen your comprehension and appreciation of Christian theology and to increase your facility with theological method. The processes of defining a topic, researching the results of others' studies, critiquing those studies, and organizing your conclusions in a clear and cogent presentation provides valuable skills for your various leadership ministries. The use of sources is an essential step in appropriating the learning of the Church's tradition in its relationship to cultures to help us understand and faithfully practice Scripture.
2. Using information obtained from a source without indicating it (whether by footnote, parentheses, or bibliography or some other appropriate reference, depending on the type of assignment) is plagiarism (intellectual thievery and lying). This applies to any information that you gain from someone that is not “common knowledge.” It does not apply only to exact quotations or precise verbal allusions. Altering the wording does not remove the obligation to acknowledge the source.

3. Cheating is the presentation of someone else’s work, which the student ought to have done personally. This includes submitting answers to test questions derived by some means other than that intended by the instructor. It also includes turning in written assignments composed in whole or in part by someone else.
4. Cheating or plagiarism results, at minimum, in the disqualification of that unit of the course affected. A student caught plagiarizing or cheating will forfeit that project. A second offense will result in the forfeiture of the course. Punishments may be more severe than the minimum depending upon the specific situation.

Computer Policy (Modified from Dr. Alan Jacobs of Baylor University)

Computers, tablets, and smart-phones are not allowed in class. Think I’m over-reacting? Think you’re a master of multitasking? You are not. No, I really mean it. Notes taken by hand are almost always more useful than typed notes, because more thoughtful selectivity goes into them; plus there are multiple cognitive benefits to writing by hand. And people who use laptops in class see their grades decline — and even contribute to lowering the grades of other people.
