Schedule: Tues June 8 – Friday June 11.

Course hours: 9am – 430pm.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Kingdom and Missional Prayer is a study in training yourself and others in gospel-centered, missional prayer. It is designed for prayer leaders and ministry leaders who want to disciple their team/church/communities in prayer in various ministry contexts.

The course will form students to train others to (1) build a culture of prayer (2) to develop praying leaders who in turn, develop praying communities and (3) are able to pray informed by local and global contexts, identifying biblical and cultural connections between the two.

Kingdom and Missional Prayer features key readings on prayer, questions for personal reflection and group interaction, and prayer points to guide practice. Students are challenged to come back to the practical heart of prayer, the gospel, and the role of prayer in mission, renewal, and revival. Each lesson contains practical tools in developing new or deeper prayer habits, personally and corporately.

Topics include:

- biblical prayer patterns
- prayer lists
- prayer maps
- prayer walking
- identifying prayer needs of your city
- prayer progress evaluations
- missional prayer accountability groups
- fasting and prayer

COURSE OUTLINE:

The first third of the course will focus on the prayer life of a leader, confronting personal and cultural idols, and understanding their interaction between idols and a life of prayer. There will be several ‘plug and play’ exercises, including evaluation and training, for personal and church application.

The second third of the course will concentrate on how to bring prayer into the artery of a church/ mission culture. When leaders ‘lead from the knees’ the church will follow. Again, there will be several ‘plug and play’ exercises, including evaluation and training, for personal and church application.

The final third of the course, will build on the first two, as we demonstrate how praying leaders build praying churches, and praying churches pray their way into their neighborhood and city. Again, there will be several ‘plug and play’ exercises, including evaluation and training, for personal and church application.

ASSIGNMENTS:

Classroom participation 30%

Two, 10-page papers will be assigned each 35% of final grade.

Choose two from these three topics:

1. Showing familiarity with Calvin’s entire treatment of prayer in Book III chapter xx of the Institutes, write a 10-page paper on the Lord’s Prayer section. Outline his essential points, and apply them to your present context, church, city and nation. Out of these insights, write a two-page version of the Lord’s Prayer for today.
2. In The Struggle for Prayer, Daniel Bloesch makes a strong distinction between three types of prayer: primitive prayer, mystic prayer, and prophetic prayer. Write a 10-page paper outlining the differences between (and where they agree). Compare and contrast this with the kinds of prayer that are promoted and prevalent in the church and among Christians today.
3. In Disruptive Prayer, John Smed argues that with every advance of Christ’s kingdom, whether church revival or urban renewal, in biblical or present times, the movement is ignited and sustained by earnest and united prayer. In the sequence of mission expansion, prayer is invariably the first stage. Demonstrating a familiarity with Smed’s overall thesis that church revival and urban renewal start with prayer, turn the thesis into an exhortation for the church in this city. Add examples and testimony from the present context.
