Failure to attend class can result in a grade penalty. You may not miss more than two classes with excused absences. The course consists of two hours of lecture and one hour of discussion covering assigned readings, which should be completed prior to the beginning of class. The following rubric explains how students will be evaluated:

Course Readings (20%): completion of all assigned reading. Please only report your reading if you do not complete all 100 percent. Course readings include all assigned textbook reading and PDFs available through Canvas.

Reading Briefs (30%): Students are expected to prepare a brief on each text read. The purpose of the brief is to summarize the thesis, outline, and argument of that text, as well as to state one's own analysis of it (in the form of questions, confirmations, objections, etc.). Briefs may include quotations from various points in the text (so long as page numbers are referenced). Briefs should be no more than 350 words. They should be written in complete sentences and edited carefully. Students are to bring a printed copy of their assigned briefs to class each week and upload their brief to Canvas.

Each course contributes to these overall outcomes. This rubric shows the contribution of this course to the MDiv outcomes. *As the MDiv is the core degree at RTS, the MDiv rubric will be used in this syllabus.		Rubric • Strong • Moderate • Minimal • None	Mini-Justification

Also includes ability to preach and teach the meaning of Scripture to both heart and mind with clarity and enthusiasm.	STRONG	Students are required to participate in discussions as well as write briefs that analyze assigned readings.
Scripture	Significant knowledge of the original meaning of Scripture. Also, the concepts for and skill to research further into the original meaning of Scripture and to apply Scripture to a variety of modern circumstances. MODERATE	This course focuses on the history of doctrine, which involves the history of exegesis.
Reformed Theology	Significant knowledge of Reformed theology and practice, with emphasis on the Westminster Standards.	MODERATE	This course examines the development of doctrine, which constitutes many of the key building blocks for Reformed theology.
Sanctification	Demonstrates a love for the Triune God that aids the student's sanctification.	STRONG	A key point of this course is to learn humility and charity by studying early church doctrine and glean knowledge from it.
Worldview	Burning desire to conform all of life to the Word of God. Includes ability to interact within a denominational context, within the broader worldwide church, and with significant public issues.	MODERATE	One of the course's foci is learning from the church's past errors so as not to repeat them in the present.

(Includes an appropriate ecumenical spirit with other Christians, especially Evangelicals; a concern to present the Gospel in a God-honoring manner to non-Christians; and a truth-in-love attitude in disagreements.)	STRONG	If we learn how challenging it was to develop orthodox doctrine, then the aim is to be humble as we propagate it.
Pastoral Ministry	Ability to minister the Word of God to hearts and lives of both church and unchurched, to include preaching, teaching, leading in worship, leading and shepherding the local congregation, aiding in spiritual maturity, concern for non-Christians.	MODERATE	This course examines various examples of applied ministry.
